

REMARKS

Certain of these amendments were made to clarify that the “responsive to” language in Claim 1 is with respect to “a user selection”, in order to address the previous 35 U.S.C. § 112, 2nd paragraph rejection. As to the previous 35 U.S.C. § 101 rejection, Applicant has amended the independent claims to overcome such rejection, in accordance with the requirements specified in MPEP 2106. As to the previous 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) rejection, it is urged that every element recited in the claims is not identically shown in the cited Sylor reference. For example, in a recent telephone interview, the Examiner pointed to the ‘Recent Lists’ shown at element 519 in Sylor’s Figure 6B as teaching the claimed ‘list of browsers’ feature. Applicant urges that while this element provides a selectable field where a user can access recent lists, there are several differences between these ‘recent lists’ and the claimed ‘list of browser windows’. First, this ‘recent list’ is not displayed responsive to receiving a user input indicating that a new document is to be displayed, but instead is displayed in response to a user selecting a file drop down window (Sylor paragraph [0152]). Second, this ‘recent list’ is not a list of browser windows but instead is a user-selectable field that a user can select to display a ‘recent list’ which is described to be a logical hierarchy. This logical hierarchy is not a list of browser windows, but instead is a graphical depiction of network resources (Sylor paragraphs [0152], [0049] – [0051], [0084], [0069] and [0076]). Third, this ‘recent list’ does not include any indication of a presently displayed document in each respective browser window in the list of browser windows (i.e. multiple windows).

No new matter has been added by these amendments. The Examiner is invited to call the undersigned at the below-listed telephone number if in the opinion of the Examiner such a telephone conference would expedite or aid the prosecution and examination of this application.
